New Alarm System cuts security costs

Australian Security Rentals is proud to announce a new alarm system that dramatically reduces communications costs and management time.

Please check the phone bill your alarm panel uses (often your fax) for calls to the following numbers: 1345 1242 or 1345 1842. This represents calls your alarm panel has made to our receiver and is no doubt a cost you would like to eliminate.

Along with phone line expenses, phone dialling alarm panels like Tecom and Concept are time consuming for both security managers and control room operators.

Database synchronisation can be a laborious process, so important information usually ends up out of date at either end. You also have to manage each panel site by site - very frustrating when trying to remove just one persons access from multiple sites. These complexities often result in ex-employees being left in the system, a great risk to your security!

Another problem with phone dialling panels becomes apparent when a detector goes into fault, they get so busy dialling out, it's near impossible for us to dial back in and stop all the calls. This has left many a client with large phone bills*.

Thankfully all these issues have been solved with the release of Protege. Protege is a modern alarm / access control system that has all the features you would expect of a commercial grade system plus:

- IP Reporting (no more phone costs)
- Global user management (add a driver to 20 sites with one click)
- Remote security manager service option (no need to host at your site)
- Real time VideoControlRoom control operator panel control for arming/disarming, service etc.

Protege represents a huge leap forward in security technology ASR and VideoControlRoom have successfully deployed it to over 20 large commercial sites and are ready for its broad adoption. The good news is by offsetting your phone call and management costs, a Protege rental may result in zero net cost, simultaneously providing you with a large reduction in security risk and a boost in management efficiency.

* Please note: ASR/VCR are not liable for panel communications. Whilst you maintain a phone dialling panel you are at risk of excessive panel telecommunications that we cannot control. Protege mitigates this risk.
